Bay trustees delay approval of pre-first grade program

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District Board of Trustees is awaiting its mid-year financial report and action by the State Legislature to determine what type or if it will initiate a pre-first grade school program.

The trustees Monday night heard a report by J.D. McCullough, superintendent of education, and Sue Sonier, Bay Junior High School reading supervisor, regarding the feasibility of establishing a pre-first grade summer program for beginning students.

Sonier said a committee consisting of one first grade teacher from North Bay and Wayland Elementaries and the principals of the schools determined between 125 and 150 youngsters would attend the pre-school program which should run at least four weeks and five days beginning July 6.

She suggested the daily weekday classes begin at 8:30 a.m. and end at 11:30 a.m.

"There is definitely a need for the program in the student population and the need is greater than we realized," she stated.

Sonier termed as "shocking" that the committee found "28.3 percent of Wayland Elementary and 31.9 percent of North Bay students entering the second grade did not possess the minimum expected reading ability."

"We found that most children (beginning the first grade) are weak in the oral language aspect," the reading supervisor stated.

She said at the junior high, which houses the fifth through eighth grades, 39 students possess a reading level below fourth grade.

"You can have students in school 365 days a year, but if they are not mature enough, they are not ready to learn anything," Sonier stated.

McCullough reported the State Legislature, now in a special session called by Gov. William Winter to improve Mississippi's educational programs, is considering establishing kindergartens or a teacher-aide system for first through third grades in all public schools.

Sonier said the aides would be beneficial and a kindergarten program would be excellent, but the Bay school system does not have any additional classrooms for a full-time kindergarten.

However, she noted, "Just having someone to communicate with the children would be very helpful. A great deal of what will be taught in a pre-school program will be helping children to listen."

McCullough said the pre-school program this summer alone would cost $17,000, but speculated the federal government would provide $4,700 (about one-third).

The superintendent's estimate is based on:

—Hiring six teachers at a cost of $6,000 with $557 in fringe benefits and $800 for supplies;

—Employing six aides at a cost of $3,000 with $479 in fringe benefits;

—Providing three buses with driver salaries of $1,200 with $191 in fringe benefits, $1,500 for fuel and $705 in bus depreciation;

—Paying a supervisor $1,250 with $200 in fringe benefits and $100 for supplies;

—Employing a janitor for five weeks at $300 with $48 in fringe benefits and $100 for supplies;

—Utility costs of about $700.

McCullough said presently he and Garland Cuevas, district business manager, are not able to determine if funds are available for the program until later in the school year.

Sonier urged the board to decide whether to offer the program or not no later than March to allow teachers time to organize lesson plans.

She also noted the district would have to totally fund the project so children from poor families, whom she said need the additional training the most, would participate.

Walter Turcotte, board president, urged the trustees to delay voting on the matter pending legislation or until the district's financial status is clarified.

McCullough, Turcotte and Trustee James Glinn all stated they would not want to begin a pre-school program if it meant depriving other academic activities of finances.

Turcotte urged Sonier to develop a plan for the teacher-aide program just in case the state opts to fund that alternative.

The board president suggested the pre-school summer program be a mandatory requirement for all first grade students to gain maximum effectiveness for the district's investment.

In other business at the 7:30 p.m. regular meeting at the superintendent's office at Bay Senior High School, the board:

—Approved a request by North Bay teachers to name the school library in memory of the late teacher Amanda Blackledge Carter who was killed several months ago in an automobile accident;

—Approved forming a committee consisting of Trustees Betty Diboll and Maurice Singleton to formulate an in-school student suspension policy. Turcotte reported some students are deliberately being caught smoking to be suspended from school for three days;

—Authorized McCullough to install speed bumps in the school parking lot and along streets on school property;

—Authorized McCullough to proceed with renovation or two restrooms at the junior high located on the Carroll Avenue side of the school near the gymnasium and to repair a toilet in the school's home economics room area which is falling through rotted flooring;

—Approved senior Randy Bounds as a school bus driver;

—Approved Yolanda Bradley as a Chapter One teacher aide at North Bay;

—Accepted a high bid of $155 from Robert McDonald for purchase of a used piano at North Bay. The board received no bids for a used band hall piano.

EIGHT MORE DAYS—John Guy, 5, of Bay St. Louis visits with Santa during a recent Good Times Nursery School field trip to a local restaurant, revealing to the jolly old man just what it is he expects to find under the tree Christmas morning. With only eight days left until the big day, good little boys and girls are even better than usual and Santa reports he's well pleased. Santa told the Sea Coast Echo he hopes to read many letters to him in the newspaper next week.

State officials back Corps offshore rules

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
All state officials attending a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' hearing Tuesday night in Biloxi endorsed efforts by the federal government to revise regulations affecting proposed offshore oil and gas developments in the Mississippi Sound.

The 7 p.m. hearing in the Broadwater Beach Hotel Coronet Room drawing 35 people was one of two the Corps conducted as initial steps in developing a Generic Environmental Impact Statement regarding exploration and production in the Sound and coastal Alabama waters.

An initial hearing was conducted in Mobile, Ala. earlier this month. Col. Patrick Kelly, district engineer of the Corps' Mobile office, noted the finalized statement will speed the issuing of permits for offshore hydrocarbon activities and act as a guidance document by outlining expected environmental effects and sensitive areas which should be avoided by the industry.

He reported two separate documents in the GEIS will be issued for Mississippi and Alabama in about 18-20 months which will conform with existing state regulations.

Until that time, the Corps will adopt an interim policy of issuing drilling permits on an individual basis, Kelly added.

State re-opens two oyster dredging reefs near Pass

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Telegraph and Pass Marianne Reefs, two of eight public Mississippi oyster beds closed last week due to high pollution levels, are now open.

Dr. Fred Deegen, saltwater fisheries chief of State Bureau of Marine Resources in Long Beach, Wednesday afternoon confirmed the two dredging reefs offshore from Pass Christian were officially opened at 1:15 p.m. that day after water samples revealed fecal coliform bacteria counts had dropped below dangerous levels.

The State Health Department Shellfish Sanitation Branch in Jackson last week ordered all oyster reefs west of Menge Avenue in Pass Christian to the Louisiana border closed until further notice after water samples drawn near tonging and dredging areas found extremely high human waste bacteria levels.

Not effected by the closure are two relatively small public tonging areas—Long Beach and Bangs Lake Reefs.

Deegen said the high pollution levels resulted from unusually heavy rains which flushed wastes from flooded sewage treatment systems and septic tanks in low lying areas.

He reported heavy rains Tuesday might delay opening more reefs, but the two dredging areas opened Wednesday should offer enough oysters for all local fishermen.

Deegen added the Tuesday rains might increase bacteria levels in shallow-water tonging reefs somewhat, but the BMR is drawing water samples

Man faces multiple charges following high-speed chase

By BRENT MACEY
A Pass Christian man was arrested Tuesday night following a high speed chase along US-90 and is facing 11 charges including a felony charge of assaulting a police officer.

Terrance Lee Alvarado, 27, of 102 McClung Street, was released on a $26,485 bond from the Hancock County Jail Wednesday.

He is charged with two counts of running a red light, speeding in excess of 100 miles-per-hour, reckless driving, failure to yield to blue lights and siren, public profanity, resisting arrest, driving without a license, driving with an expired license plate, assault on a police officer and driving while intoxicated.

Bay St. Louis Assistant Auxiliary Chief Brenda Anderson said Bay St.

Louis Patrolman Alan Bowers was proceeding west on US-90 at approximately 9:30 p.m. Tuesday when he spotted a car traveling east at a high rate of speed.

"He (Bowers) turned around to pursue the car and the gentleman decided to try and outrun the officer," Anderson said.

"Bowers caught him in Pass Christian," she added.

The assistant auxiliary chief said Alvarado resisted arrest after being stopped.

"A scuffle ensued and the officer was injured," she stated.

Anderson said Bowers' glasses were broken during the struggle and the officer may have suffered a broken nose. Other law enforcement agencies called to the scene for backup included units from the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, the Pass Christian Police Department, the Harrison County Sheriff's Department, and two Mobile Medic units.

BURGLARIZED

The Eatery on North Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis was burglarized some time Sunday night.

Bay St. Louis Assistant Auxiliary Police Chief Brenda Anderson stated the burglars broke a side window and a window on the front door with a rock.

A case of Snickers bars were stolen along with money in a cup on the counter which is reserved for donations for muscular dystrophy.

A list of all items stolen has not been completed, Anderson said.

'Christmas' tree cut from grave

Relatives of deceased interred in Bayou CoCo Cemetery in Fenton report vandals are cutting fir trees planted as memorials at gravesites.

"It's a shame someone would be so lazy in the search for a Christmas tree that he would take a tree off a grave," the mother of a deceased teenager reported.

Many people associate pain in the body joints such as the fingers, wrists, elbows, or knees and feet with arthritis, rheumatism or gout. They often mention how bad weather increases the aching. Weather changes do affect the pain level intensity by aggravating the body's temperature centers. These centers are responsible for adapting the internal body temperature to the outside environment. When such changes occur, it naturally affects all the normal parts of the body which you don't feel, but you do feel the change in the abnormal parts (aching joints). The application of Chiropractic care has been found to be quite effective in aiding recovery of those who suffer with aching joints.

Quotables by CUEVAS

The recent rains have been playing havoc with our streets and highways.

We noted Wednesday many new pot holes on US-90 in the west-bound lane near Dunbar Avenue.

Recent attempts were made to patch the pot holes, but the frequent rains have washed out the repair materials.

It seems to us there may be a need for a resurfacing of a short section of US-90, because the pot holes are very numerous.

In the county there have been several road washouts and the supervisors have been very busy making repairs.

We can remember not too long ago when everyone was wishing for rain, now it is the other way around.

Last week we noted a strong odor in Bay St. Louis thinking it was possibly from a broken gas line.

Bill Johnson, Bay St. Louis superintendent, informed us that it was an odorant which is placed in the gas system about twice a year, and this was done last week.

He explained the odorant is mixed with the gas so users can discover if they have any leaks.

The odorant has to be pressurized in a drum and then transferred into a holding cylinder and if only a very small amount escapes, you think gas lines are broken all over the place.

By the way, Johnson said natural gas is odorless, so that is why the odorant is placed into the system.

Santa's helpers have already been busy in delivering toys to needy boys and girls in Hancock County.

This week the Hancock County Doll and Toy fund started making deliveries, according to Chairman Andrew Lizana, Bay St. Louis fire chief.

Members of the sheriff's department have been reaching out into the outlying areas.

Bay St. Louis and Waveland firefighters will begin city deliveries next week.

With so many parents out of work this year, Christmas will have little meaning to many young children.

The Doll and Toy fund has already received the names of over 325 children from the Welfare Department, according to Lizana.

The fire chief hopes to have enough funds to reach every child in the county in need this Christmas.

Lizana said he is very thankful to the many organizations, governmental agencies, and individuals who have made contributions to the Doll and Toy Fund. Many have helped by getting outgrown toys to the Bay Fire Station where they are freshened-up to make some child happy.

We think this is a worthy cause and feel anyone who can, should help those in need at Christmas.

The Third Annual Pearlinton Christmas Parade is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 18, at 2 p.m.

The big parade is scheduled to start at the Community Center on Hwy. 604 and proceed west to US-90 and then down US-90 to Seventh Street and return to the Community Center.

We hope it will be a nice day and everyone will come out and enjoy themselves.

PSC orders Entex refund

Lynn Havens, chairman of the Mississippi Public Service Commission Southern District, reports the commission Dec. 9 ordered Entex Gas Company to refund to its customers a total of $12,927,541.

"This is money that has been received by Entex from refunds from various suppliers from whom Entex purchased gas."

Under the rate schedule which is on file with the commission, Entex is required to refund these amounts to its customers," Havens said.

The refunds are retroactive five years back from Dec. 31, 1981. Havens said the nearest calculation would mean approximately a $81 average refund to residential consumers and approximately $1,461,234 of the $12,927,541 would be refunded to large volume customers and $11,466,306 being refunded to the remainder of Entex gas customers.

"These figures and the terms set forth in the order issued by this commission will be monitored closely by commission staff to see that each and every customer gets the correct amount of refund," Havens emphasized.

State Medical Association offers tips on colds

(Presented as a public service by the Mississippi State Medical Association and The Sea Coast Echo).

FEVER SIGNALS
Fever, contrary to popular belief, is not an enemy. In fact, it is a helpful warning that something is wrong with the body. It is not the fever itself but the cause of the fever which presents the danger.

There are many old wives' tales and myths surrounding fever. One of these is that the seriousness of the illness is indicated by how high the fever is. This is not the case, reminds the Mississippi State Medical Association. In fact, some of the most serious children's diseases carry low-grade fevers or no fevers at all, and some of the less severe illnesses record very high temperatures.

Another myth is that lowering the fever will make the child less sick. However, lowering a fever does make a child more comfortable and, in some cases, becomes a medical necessity. To bring a fever down, doctors usually recommend administering the specified dosage of aspirin or an aspirin substitute if the child is not allergic to it, giving the child a rubdown with tepid water, and/or placing the child in a cool bath.

Although fever can cause convulsions, about 90 percent of all children never suffer one. And the remaining 10 percent rarely occur in children over two to three years of age. Moreover, a child is seldom injured during a convulsion of only a few minutes duration which terminates spontaneously. If any type of convulsion does occur, however, a physician should be notified.

It is also necessary to make certain that a child who has a fever receives large amounts of fluids since a sick child often refuses to eat or drink. This lack of fluid intake, in addition to the drain on body fluids produced by the fever, can result in dehydration.

Remember, fever is a signal of an illness and as such should always be investigated.

THE COMMON COLD
Fall is here and with it, the season for the sniffles and sneezing of the common cold. While they are certainly not life-threatening, these pesky upper respiratory infections can be very discomforting, and can make you feel miserable.

Colds are caused by viruses, and over 100 viral agents are responsible for 90 percent of the symptoms of fever, aching, nasal congestion, and raw and scratchy throats. Diseases caused by viruses are self-limiting; that is, they generally run their course regardless of what medications you take. Viruses do not respond to costly antibiotics, which are used to fight bacterial diseases.

Some of the many cold remedies available without a prescription will relieve some of the familiar cold symptoms. But not a single one of these products will prevent, cure, or even shorten the course of the common cold. A cold usually lasts from one to two weeks.

The proper use of nonprescription drugs can be effective in relieving cough, sinus congestion, runny nose and some of the other symptoms associated with colds, allergies, or asthma. Patients should try to identify those products which contain ingredients to relieve their particular symptoms.

Doctors remind patients that sore throat can be due to serious infection which should not be treated by self-medication. Over-the-counter remedies should be used only to treat minor throat irritation, reminds the Mississippi State Medical Association. If the throat problem persists or gets worse, a physician's advice should be sought. Though over-the-counter products will frequently alleviate symptoms, the best treatment for the common cold is still adequate rest, plenty of liquids, especially fruit juices and water, gargling with hot salt water for sore throats, and avoiding getting too chilled or too hot.

High fever, chills, ear-ache and persistent cough indicate secondary infection and should alert the individual to see a physician.

NUTRITIOUS FOODS
Some elderly people, for various reasons, do not eat enough; their calorie and nutrient intakes become too low to maintain health. Decreased activity, chronic illness, loss of sensitivity to taste and smell, loss or impairment of teeth, and inadequate income can all affect the eating habits of an older adult.

The nutrient requirements of elderly adults are still basically those of younger adults, according to the Mississippi State Medical Association, even though fewer calories are needed. So, older individuals should choose foods high in proteins, minerals and vitamins to make every bite count.

Many older people reduce their intake of meat without increasing their consumption of other protein-rich foods. Calcium and iron intakes are also often too low.

Milk, cheese or yogurt should be regular features of the diet because they are excellent sources of protein and calcium. Iron needs can be met by using lean meats, egg yolks, green leafy vegetables and whole grain or enriched breads and cereals.

Fruit and vegetables (green and yellow) are needed each day, particularly for their vitamin C, vitamin A and fiber content.

Elderly people concerned about the cost of food will find that there are many ways to obtain items high in nutrients and low in cost. For example, canned evaporated milk and nonfat dry milk have the same protein and calcium value as that of fresh fluid milk and frequently can be substituted for fresh milk in cooking and baking.

The large packages of nonperishable items like sugar, flour, rice and beans are generally less expensive per pound than are the small packages and do not lose nutritive value during storage of several months.

Also, low-cost cuts of meat and fish are as high in nutritive value as are the more expensive items. Thrifty buys are usually available on stew meats, pot roasts, liver, variety meats and fresh fish in season.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

If it concerns you, it concerns us

Emergency determinations should be made by doctor at hospital, not by operator over telephone

The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Editor,

On Dec. 4, 1982, I encountered an incident concerning Hancock General Hospital in which I feel a great injustice was done.

My son had an eye injury and was in great pain. His eye was completely bloodshot, it was secreting liquid, the pupil had developed a green haze, he could not stand the light to hit it, and he was unable to see.

I called Hancock General Hospital, to see if they would examine him in the emergency room.

I was told by the girl at the admittance desk that I must have cash payment if I brought him in.

When I told her I did not have the cash, I was refused service.

When I told her that I had an insurance policy she responded, "You still need cash, you can take that up with your insurance company later."

I requested she check my medical record to see that I had paid my bills. She insisted, that didn't have any bearing on the issue, and without cash I still could not bring my son to the hospital for treatment.

My next request was to speak to a doctor, hoping he could advise me on an emergency home treatment. That request was also denied.

I was finally allowed to speak to a nurse, who told me not to worry about it, and giving me the name of a doctor, told me to see him on Monday.

In despair, I went to the Big B drugstore to get some medicine to try to treat the eye myself. I explained the problem to the druggist and he suggested I take my son to the hospital. I told him I was refused service at the hospital. In disbelief the druggist got on the telephone and called the hospital. He too, was turned down. Shaking his head in dismay he still insisted it was urgent that my son receive medical attention, since his sight was at stake.

So in the rain and flooded streets I drove 25 miles to Gulfport, where my son was treated immediately, and I might add, without cash.

Since the incident I have spoken to the administrator's office, where I was told by the secretary that the new policy at Hancock General was: unless the doctor determined the problem an emergency, treatment would be cash basis only.

I was not allowed to speak to a doctor. My son's condition was left up to the wisdom of a desk clerk to determine if it was an emergency.

I was offered an apology and assured the girl would be reprimanded.

What is an apology worth, if my son had lost his sight?

It is a tragic situation to have a hospital in our very own community, to turn us away and refuse to give us medical attention, yet our neighboring hospital opened their doors to us. An injustice, most definitely.

Salvation Army traditional Christmas programs in addition to United Way-supported efforts

Editors
Sea Coast Echo

Gentlemen:

What's a little Christmas teddy bear worth? Not much to most people, but if you are 5-year-old Tammy, it's priceless.

This Christmas, The Salvation Army will help many unfortunate children like Tammy and their families. We will provide the "down-and-outers" with a meal and a place to sleep, the prisoners with an understanding ear, and the children with toys and clothes and shoes.

As you know, suffering and heartache, hunger and loneliness are not limited to Christmas.

Because of this, we serve the needy whenever and wherever we find them. The Salvation Army provides a balance of spiritual, physical and physical needs at Christmas and throughout the year.

The number of people we help this year will depend on you. We really need your contribution now, so won't you please write your check today and send it to us.

Thank you and may God richly bless you.

John Heath
Advisory Board Chairman
P.S. It costs about $35 to provide Christmas for the average family.

CONSUMER REPORT

A Service of the Consumer Protection Division of the Office of Bill Allain Attorney General
P.O. Box 220, Jackson, MS 39205 (601-454-7130)

HOLIDAY SHOPPING BY MAIL

Attorney General Bill Allain says that consumers may find advantages to ordering holiday gifts through the mail but if your order arrives late, damaged, or does not arrive at all, you need to know your rights.

During the post-holiday months of January and February, the Federal Trade Commission receives more letters about mail order problems than at any other time of year. Most consumers who complain are unaware of a rule that gives them certain protections when shopping by mail — the Mail Order Merchandise Rule. This Federal Trade Commission rule requires the seller to send your mail order goods within 30 days or when promised, or to give you the option of getting a prompt refund.

Here are some answers to questions you may have about shopping by mail: What can I do if my order is not sent when promised?

You can cancel your order for a complete refund. The rule requires that the seller mail you an "option notice" if the promised shipping date can't be met. This notice tells you the new shipping date and includes a postage free way for you to cancel your order for a complete refund or to agree to a new shipping date. If the company cannot meet the new shipping date, it must send you a second option notice. Your order will automatically be cancelled unless you sign the second notice and return it to the company.

If I cancel my order after receiving an option notice, when should my refund be sent?

If your order was paid by cash, check, or money order, the rule states that a refund must be mailed within seven business days. If the sale was by credit, the seller must mail the papers that adjust your account within one billing cycle.

What if no shipping or delivery date is promised?

Under the Mail Order Rule, if no delivery period is promised, the seller must ship the merchandise no later than 30 days after your complete order is received.

Does this rule apply to everything ordered by mail?

No. The rule does not cover photographing, magazine subscriptions (except for the first issue), COD orders, seeds and plants, or credit orders where your account is not charged before the goods are shipped.

What should I do if my order arrives damaged or does not fit?

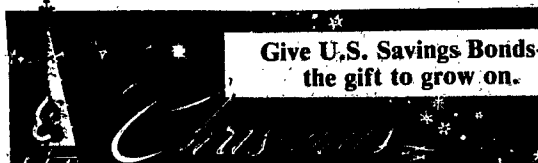

Instructions on how to handle such problems are often included with your order. If there are no instructions, write the company and explain the situation. In your letter, provide all the information that identifies your order, including your account and order number, and keep a copy of your letter. The company should let you know how to correct the problem. If your order has been damaged, you may want to notify the post office or the company that delivered the product.

Who should I contact for assistance with a mail order problem?

First, contact the seller and try to resolve the problem. If that does not work, the Consumer Protection Division of the Mississippi Attorney General's Office may be helpful. That address is P. O. Box 220, Jackson, Mississippi 39205.

Offshore

State Bureau of Marine Resources in Long Beach, in endorsing the GEIS said, "We are very supportive of this effort. This is an expansion of our efforts and we feel this can only strengthen our jurisdiction in the Sound."

He noted the bureau will be responsible for the Coastal Zone Management Program which when finalized will provide for development consistent with environmental concerns.

Laird also noted the BMR is also concerned with marine fisheries management and interested in the environmental profile the statement will provide.

Col. Charles Blalock of Jackson, State Department of Natural Resources director and former head of the Mobile district, said his agency agrees with procedures proposed for the Corps statement.

Regarding present Corps permit procedures, Blalock said, "The obtaining of necessary permits is most time consuming, after a lease is consummated. The Corps proposal would be to the benefit of the people."

"The processes the federal agency is embarking upon are in line with state procedures," he added.

Larry Goldman of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service office in Daphne, Ala. said in endorsing the GEIS, "The federal government is concerned about the impacts of hydrocarbon activities in the Mississippi Sound."

"The impacts are great unless a safe course is pursued," he warned.

W.B. Curtis of Florida, owner of 100 acres on Horn Island, urged the Corps to consider private owners of offshore property in the statement so the islands do not become nests for oil and gas pumping stations.

Paul Kellarher, port director of the Jackson County Port Authority reported that body and the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce both signed resolutions in support of the GEIS.

In a question and answer period, John Bordage of Hancock County asked if relatively small barge-borne oil drilling operations would have fewer restrictions than large offshore oil rigs.

Kelly replied and statement will identify areas for exploration in which permits should be easily obtainable.

He speculated no exploration would be allowed in or near oyster beds.

Blalock said after completion of the GEIS, exploration permits should be processed within six weeks.

Kelly noted with the present system it takes 18 months to two years to approve an offshore drilling permit because oil companies presently do not know where environmentally sensitive areas exist.

Blalock stated, "There was significant disagreement most of the time when a permit was issued by the state. I think we now have solved our state and federal conflicts up front."

Bordage also asked if drilling mud discharges will be allowed in the Sound.

Laird said no drilling mud discharges will be allowed between the barrier islands and the shoreline, but will be permitted south of the islands if studies show the wastes will move away from environmentally sensitive areas.

He reported the state has established clear-cut guidelines for enforcement of offshore activities.

Blalock stated, "If they (the oil companies) don't go by the regulations, we'll bring them in and nail them. If they do wrong they deserve to be punished."

A representative of Mississippi Gulf Fishing Banks, Inc. expressed concern of the affects oil and gas exploration could have on artificial fishing reefs created by the organization.

Goldman replied that oil and gas drilling platforms are not a hazard to the fishing reefs and noted drilling in the sensitive areas will not be allowed.

Members of a panel answering questions and providing comments at the hearing included Beverly Etheridge of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Atlanta, Ga. office; Jamie Hildreath of the Corps Planning Division Environmental Quality Section in Mobile; Kelly; Goldman; Laird; and Blalock.

Lunar

The penumbral phases are difficult to detect, but can best be observed between five and six a.m.

The eclipse promises to be as dramatic as the July 5-6 eclipse because of the atmospheric debris from the volcanic eruption of El Chicon in Mexico.

El Chicon erupted in the spring of 1982, releasing tons of debris in the upper atmosphere. Since then that debris has been responsible for dramatic sunrises and sunsets witnessed in the northern hemisphere.

The moon appeared to be a very dark red during the July 5-6 eclipse.

at all oyster beds daily to closely monitor pollution levels.

Telegraph and Pass Marianne Reefs were opened after two successive daily samples showed pollution levels had drastically dropped to safe levels, he explained.

The BMR official said the state health department allows a maximum safe level of 49 fecal coliform bacteria per 100 milliliters of water, but after that level is exceeded the department requires two successive samples below 14 before re-opening an oyster bed.

Deegen noted the bacteria counts near the two reefs opened Wednesday had dropped into the low teens.

Last week, all water samples taken in the closed areas showed bacteria levels exceeding 2,400.

The state limits oyster fishermen utilizing dredging techniques to a maximum of 36 sacks per vessel each day.

Tongers are allowed 18 sacks per vessel each day.

Deegen said before the closure, Mississippi fishermen were gathering about 3,000 sacks of oysters daily.

Regarding the possibility of recent heavy rains reducing salinity levels and killing oysters, Deegen said tests revealed those levels are still high.

Deegen said bacteria counts at all the reefs closed last week have dropped greatly and are still unsafe, but he expects these areas will be opened soon and enough oysters will be available through March.

The BMR official would not speculate when additional reefs would be opened.

Reefs still closed include Pass Christian, Henderson Point, St. Joe, Waveland, St. Stanislaus, Bay St. Louis and any private reefs west of Menage.

Action League presents alternate redistricting plan

By BRENT MACEY

Members of the Hancock County Action League presented their second alternative county redistricting plan to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday.

The first plan, proposed several months ago by the group, was withdrawn because it caused a large population imbalance in Beat 5 in comparison with the county's four other beats.

The latest proposal, if adopted, maintains the population balance in Beat 5 and also increases the Black population in that beat to 24.5%.

In contrast to the Action League's proposal, a new redistricting plan proposed by the county calls for a large population in Beat 4.

While Blacks in Beat 5 would be reduced to 1.9%, the percent of Blacks in Beat 4 would increase to 24.3 percent.

Members of the Action League, however, prefer a large Black population to be concentrated in Beat 5 instead of Beat 4.

"That's where our political strength is," Tom Clarke, a member of the action league, said about Beat 5.

The way it is now, the Black population is split; just like taking an ax and cutting piece of cheese."

He said the county's proposed plan, separates groups of Black populations into three areas in Beat 4; including Bay St. Louis, Waveland and unincorporated areas of both cities.

Under the Action League plan, the majority of Blacks would be concentrated in Bay St. Louis in an area which includes Sycamore, Citizen, Ballentine and Washington Streets.

Since the plan calls for changing district lines in the city, large areas in the county must be shifted to accommodate the change.

The areas of Jourdan River Shores and Bayou LaTerre would be shifted from Beat 5 into Beat 4 under the action league's proposal.

Board Attorney Walter Gex noted new redistricting lines, however they are drawn, must conform to guidelines established by the United States Justice Department.

Beside population and minority group considerations, the districts must also attempt to equalize the number of miles of road in each beat and numbers of bridges, he said.

Members of the action league and Beat 4 and 5 supervisors, all agreed to meet together in the future in an attempt to work out a possible compromise before the final redistricting plan is established.

Also at the Monday meeting, the board approved construction of an airplane hangar at Stennis International Airport.

The new 4,200 square foot hangar, to cost an estimated $60,000 to construct, would be used to house the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Lear Jet.

Andy Ewing, fixed base operator at Stennis, told the supervisors that NASA officials have been complaining of a lack of security for the plane which has been housed at Stennis for 12 years.

"Equipment, apparently stored with the plane is valued in the millions," he said.

The way it is now, anyone can go in and touch the plane or take a piece of it and photograph it."

"Somebody could come in and sabotage it," he added, and noted the plane is sometimes used for top secret missions.

Ewing claimed NASA officials want to keep the plane at Stennis since the airport is near the National Space Technology Laboratories.

However, he said NASA will move the plane to Keesler Air Base in Biloxi if a new hangar, offering more security, could not be constructed at Stennis.

Supervisors expressed concern that NASA officials might move the plane even if the new hangar is constructed. They noted the government can only agree to house the plane on a yearly basis since funding is allocated each fiscal year.

Ewing, however, noted the length of time that the plan has already been at Stennis. He stated he thought the plane would continue to be housed at the airport.

The supervisors approved construction of the 70 by 60 foot hangar under the condition that Ewing amortize the loan over an anticipated 15 years.

Johnson to head Hancock Heart drive

Charles H. Johnson Jr. was named campaign chairman of the American Heart Association's 1983 fund raising campaign in Hancock County, according to Anita Lamb, treasurer of the Hancock County Heart Association.

The Mississippi Affiliate is made up of county heart organizations in all 82 Mississippi counties.

Despite a continuing reduction in the death rate from heart disease and stroke, more than 40 million Americans are afflicted with these diseases.

"Nearly one million Americans die each year as a result of these diseases —more than all other causes of death combined," Johnson said.

"We're fighting to reduce the early death and disability from these diseases, so when your heart volunteer calls, remember to give generously," the campaign chairman urged area residents.

He also announced the following key committee chairmen who will serve in the campaign: Joe Monti, special events chairman; Carolyn Stringer, variety show and Miss Heart chairperson; Stan Robert and Dick Kusbab, special gifts chairmen; Ann Heitzmann and Virginia Wagner, tennis tournament; and Pennie Treutel, Memorial Fund chairperson.

Childbirth course planned

Hancock General Hospital and its staff development department are scheduling a childbirth education course with classes slated once a week for six weeks, according to Mary Ann Trowell, staff development director.

The course will include discussion of such topics as exercises, what to expect from pregnancy, nutrition, labor, and delivery.

Open to the public the course is designed for expectant mothers six to seven months pregnant. Those attending must bring along spouse, relative or friend as a coach, Trowell said.

Cost of the class is $30. Interested persons should contact the department of community relations at the hospital, 467-9081, extension 184.

CHARLES H. JOHNSON JR.

As campaign chairman, Johnson will coordinate volunteers who will seek contributions and distribute information on how the American Heart Association spent its money in support of research, education and community service programs.

Johnson said this year's campaign goal is $5,500, contributing to a statewide goal of $850,000.

The American Heart Association is a major health organization of more than two million volunteers dedicated solely to the reduction of early death and disability from heart disease, stroke and related disorders.

The importance of the income questionnaire cards cannot be overstressed, according to Mike Ladner, Hancock veterans service officer.

"As you well know, these cards have a direct bearing on the pension benefits paid to the veteran population," she noted.

In too many instances, disruptions in payment and confusion in trying to "understand the system" causes hardship for the veteran or widow.

"My goal as veterans service officer for Hancock County is for the questionnaire season to be the smoothest one we've ever had. Please do not hesitate to call on me at 467-2100 for any help or information," Ladner added.

The following beneficiaries received income questionnaires this year:

- (1) Veterans, surviving spouses, and children in receipt of improved pension benefits;
- (2) Veterans and surviving spouses, unless exempt due to having attained age 72, in receipt of Old Law and Section 306 pension;

(3) DIC parents. Veterans who receive compensation will not receive an IQ Card.

Once you buy that beautiful tree of yours this Christmas, be sure it's not surrounded by potential hazards. Burning cigarettes. Frayed extension cords. Sharp-edged ornaments.

Keep your tree out of harm's way. Keep harmful objects (like cigarettes) away from it. Enjoy Christmas to the fullest, knowing you've been cautious in preparing for it.

Pass hands Stone defeat, ties for conference lead

By BRENT MACEY

The Pass Christian High School boys varsity basketball team topped Stone County last week 16-12 to earn themselves a tie with the Tomcats for first place in the Deep South Conference.

Stone successfully stalled the ball game, passing sometimes for several minutes before taking a shot, but the tactic didn't work. At half time the score was tied at 4-4, with Pass Christian scoring the only two points of the second period.

In the third quarter the Tomcats jumped out to a 12-10 lead. But in the fourth quarter the team made some crucial mistakes. Pirate Will Curtis capitalized on the errors with 33 seconds left in the game by sinking a pair of free throws from the foul line to give Pass the winning points.

Ramone Henderson and Brent Cannon led the Pirates with six points each in the contest. Lee Brown led the Tomcats with six.

In the girls game, a tall Stone County team, led by Alisha Jones, handed the Lady Pirates a sound 51-23 defeat. Jones scored 28 points.

Lisa Goodman led the Pass girls with eight.

Monday night

On Monday the Pirates scored an easy 86-84 victory.

over the East Central Hornets with Brent Cannon and Ramone Henderson leading the Pirates with 18 points each.

Three other Pirates scored in the double figures including Ben Fields with 15 points, Richard Poe with 14 and Will Curtis with 13.

The Pass, now 12-3 for the season, hit an impressive 62 percent from the field during the contest and will face Hancock North Central tonight at Hancock.

BAY HIGH

The Bay High School boys varsity basketball team rebounded from a demoralizing Stone County defeat Monday night and stopped a tough Oak Grove team 54-45 Tuesday night in the Tiger Dome.

Tigers Ronnie Lyons and Milas Harvey scored 16 and 15 points respectively.

The Bay High girls also came back on the winning track, defeating the Oak Grove girls 51-39.

Tigerette Michelle Dorsey hit for 22 points followed by teammate Dina Benoit who totaled 15.

Monday night

On Monday both the Bay High boys and girls dropped their second contest of the year to Stone County.

The girls played a much better ball game against the Tomkittens than the boys, who appeared to be cold throughout the contest.

In the first period Stone County jumped ahead by 15-8 after the Tigers missed several scoring opportunities directly under the basket.

For the rest of the game Bay High boys played even ball with the Tomcats, but failed to make up the margin lost in the first period.

Tiger Head Coach Jerry Spell noted the Tigers let Stone set the pace; a mistake he said his team made during its first confrontation with the Tomcats.

Stone played a deliberate game passing the ball some 40 to 45 seconds before taking a shot.

Although the Tomcats did not stall the game as was witnessed in the Pass Christian, the Tigers seemed caught in the deliberate game and scrimped on shots even when they appeared available.

T.J. Farve was the Tiger's high scorer with 13 points, followed by Kenneth Cline with 12.

In the girls contest, Stone handed the Tigerettes a 53-43 decision, relying on their star center, Alisha Jones, who pumped in 25 points from under the basket.

Tigerette Terri Rhodes was Bay High's leading scorer with 15 points, followed by Michelle Dorsey with 13.

The Tigers and Tigerettes will take a Christmas break and will return Jan. 4 to Tiger Dome to take on Picayune.

NORTH CENTRAL

ST. STANISLAUS

Hancock North Central's Neal Ladner was the game's high scorer Tuesday when the Hawks handed St. Stanislaus a 64-52 defeat at Hancock.

Ladner pumped in 14 points followed by teammate Darrin Ladnier who added 14.

Steve Dravis led the Rock-A-Chaws with 20 points followed by Matt Rossetti with 13.

The Hawks pulled way out in front at half time, 46-24. Although the Rocks came back in the second quarter, the lead gained by Hancock in the first quarter was too much, and the Hawks held on for the victory.

On Thursday the Hawks travel to Pass Christian while the Rock-A-Chaws take on Pearl River Central at home.

TWO POINTS—Hawk Darrin Ladnier pops in two points at a recent Hancock North Central, Vancleave game at Hancock North Central. Ladnier totaled 20 points in the game and led the scoring along with teammate Neal Ladner, who pumped in 35 points on the way to a 76-66 Hancock victory. (Staff photo by Brent Macey)

Rain delays soccer events

Soccer was rained out for the third week in a row. The only soccer played last weekend was on Sunday afternoon at St. Augustine Seminary where Homes of the South hosted a Select Under 16 team from Sidel. Unfortunately the select team was just too much for the home team to handle as Homes was routed 7-0. Only the fine goal tending of Chris Kolodziej kept the score from going into double figures.

The schedule for this Saturday, the last weekend of scheduled games before Christmas, is as follows:

Under 8 Division
10 a.m., Coca Cola v Purple Knights; 11:30 a.m., Specialty Metal v Bears; 1 p.m., Firebirds v Scrappy Doo's; Bye, Hancock Bank.

Under 10 Division
10 a.m., McDonald's Restaurant v McDonald's Realty; 11:30 a.m., Hancock General Hospital v Lolicano's; 1 p.m., Little Italy v American Legion; Bye, Stark's Restaurant.

Under 12 Division
10 a.m., Farm Bureau, Kiln v Strikers; 11:30 a.m., Dr. Murphree, DDS v Mary Carter Paints; 1 p.m., Golden Eagles v Hale Homes; 2:30 p.m., Gulfport (SMSC Girls) v Panthers.

Under 14/16 Division
11:30 a.m., Gulfport (SMSC) v Scrappers; 1 p.m., Gulf Coast Waste v Bay-Waveland; 2:30 p.m., Gulfport (SMSC Girls) v Giants.

The last weekends of soccer will be rescheduled for the weekends of Jan. 15, 16, and Jan. 22 and 23.

The Bay Area Soccer Club still has eight teams who do not have a sponsor. A sponsorship for the balance of the season is being offered at $75 for any interested business. If you wish to sponsor a team, contact the coach for that team or Paul Montjoy. Your business name will be printed on the team jerseys.

All interested parties are advised that Ed Croal will be offering the Referee's Test on Dec. 29 in Gulfport. Those potential referees from BASC who successfully pass this test will receive a free referee shirt and will be reimbursed for their referee registration fee. Contact Tom Demboski if you are interested to set up a time to review prior to the Test.

The Board is in the process of trying to formulate some long range goals, such as establishing a central soccer complex, and needs the assistance of talented and interested parents or friends of soccer.

There is a possibility that BASC may host the Under 8 Age Group District Tournament at the end of April and we need to start planning as soon as possible.

Please contact Paul Montjoy or Patrick Neely if you can help, or come to the next Board meeting on Jan. 6 at 7:30 p.m. at the Lutheran Church of the Pines.

Flood affecting wildlife, hunting regulations altered

The December flood which has brought damage to many Mississippi households is now having some effect on the state's wildlife and hunting regulations in these areas.

Department of Wildlife Conservation officials in Jackson reported Thursday that deer and other wildlife in portions of the state's Delta area and other spots along the Mississippi River have been driven from flooded woods and fields seeking higher ground.

Hunters are being notified that shooting game animals driven from their native habitat under such conditions is a violation of the law.

"We want to make sure that hunters know that it is unlawful to hunt, trap, take, frighten, or kill game or furbearing animals forced out of their natural habitat by high water," chief of wildlife enforcement Philip Strong said.

"In areas that are flooded, the game and furbearers must be allowed to return to their natural habitat by receding waters before hunting in these areas can resume."

Strong emphasized that citations written to anyone violating this law should be at the discretion of county wildlife enforcement officers.

"As most sportsmen know, the intent of this law is to give adequate protection to animals, like deer, rabbits, quail, and others, and this is what we propose to do," Strong said.

Wildlife officials also reported that the 59,000-acre Delta National Forest and all interior holdings, located in Sharkey and Issaquena counties, have been closed to all hunting except waterfowl hunting. This includes the Sunflower Wildlife Management Area within the forest.

The recommendation was made to the agency by game division biologists and enforcement personnel who have surveyed the area on land and from aircraft.

Officials say that waterfowl hunting in the closed areas will not be affected by Thursday's action. The state's first duck season was Saturday and Sunday.

Agency executive director Lon Strong said that law enforcement personnel and biologists are "continually monitoring the situation affecting wildlife, which has been caused by the rising waters of the Mississippi River in the lower Delta and other areas."

Jackson State to open home basketball Saturday

Jackson State University opened its 1982-83 basketball season with three games on the road during an eight day road trip. The Tigers opened the season in the Fourth Annual Wichita State McDonald Classic in Wichita, Kansas on Dec. 3.

The Tigers played the perennially tough Wichita State Shockers in the first game of the tournament and lost to the host school 89-64. In the consolation game, the Tigers lost 102-88 to University of the District of Columbia, last year's NCAA Division II National Champions.

On Dec. 8 the Tigers lost to number eight ranked Missouri 86-51 in Columbia, Missouri.

"We played three good teams and they all had the good big guy," said Tiger head coach Paul Covington. "And as I said earlier, anybody we play with good big people, they are going to give us trouble."

The big centers have given the Tigers trouble in their first three games. Against Wichita State, it was 6-11 Zarko Dirisic. He scored 8 points and had 7 rebounds. The Firebirds of the University of the District of Columbia had big Earl Jones who is considered to be one of the nation's top centers. Jones scored 27 points. Steve Stipanovich of Missouri scored 24 to help his team beat the Tigers.

"We have an inexperienced team this year. We haven't jelled yet," opined Covington. "We have not reached the point where we are playing as a cohesive unit. Against Missouri, I saw some improvements, especially in Joseph Jiles. Our guards are playing well also."

"This team is going to surprise some people. We are going to be a lot better than you may think."

Senior guard Henry Williams has picked up where he left off last year, that of swishing the nets from long range. Williams, the team's captain, is the mainstay on the team. Williams is a great shooter. During the McDonald's Classic in Wichita where the three point goal was in effect, Williams hit five. He had 46 points during the two-day tournament. He is averaging 16.6 points per game.

Senior forward James Mitchell (6-7) has been playing both ends of the court extremely well. He is averaging 12.3 points per game and leading the team in rebounds averaging 8.6 per game.

A pleasant surprise for the Tigers has been the play of sophomore point guard Paul Covington Jr. He has 13 assists and is averaging 6.3 points per game. Junior college transfer forward Dirk Robinson has shown signs of brilliance.

The Tigers will play their first home game of the season against North Carolina A&T Saturday.

Animal group supports right to arm bears

Friends of Animals, a national animal protection organization, reports it is offering a bumper sticker aimed at reminding drivers of their improved chances of crashing into terrified animals during the hunting season.

The sticker reads "Help Conserve Hunters - Harvest One Today."

"The driving public," the group's president, Alice Herrington, said, "should become aware that deer charging across the road in front of cars are only trying to escape a hunter and his bullets," said Alice Herrington, group president.

"Our 'guesstimate' is that a car's chances of hitting a large animal during hunting season are about 10,000 percent greater than in the spring and summer."

"The solution our bumper sticker proposes," she averred, "is our guarantee that if you point a gun at a hunter and tell him to get back to his own territory, he'll run home and hide in the closet - and that's real conservation, of animals and car drivers."

Ms. Herrington said the sticker was couched in hunters' language and sent to sports editors, rather than hunting editors, "to stimulate an appraisal of the 'sportsmanship' involved in this mass kill of animals."

"The sport aspect," she added, "is challenged in another of our stickers 'Support The Right To Arm Bears.'"

"That one," she said, "is the focus of protest by the NRA and the National Wildlife Federation. They call it a 'warped' version of their slogan 'Support the Right to Bear Arms.'"

"In our view," Ms. Herrington concluded, "the 'warping' occurs in the lack of fair play. How can you call hunting a sport when only one party to the game has a gun. The other player not only doesn't have a gun but doesn't even know that death and injury are a fun game."

Horse judges' seminar slated

The Mississippi Horse Council (MHC) will sponsor a one-day Open Show Judges Seminar March 26 at the Mississippi State Fairgrounds in Jackson, according to Helen Mobley, executive secretary MHC.

"Most people judge either western or gaited classes," said Johnny Mac Sanders, member of MHC Board of Directors.

"This seminar will allow both types of judges to interact to provide comprehensive knowledge of horses exhibited at open shows."

Guest speakers for the seminar are the following: Bill Brewer, senior director of field services American quarter horse association; Frank Detrich, chairman of the advisory board and executive vice president of the racking horse breeders association and Dr. Charles Hutton, extension horse specialist of the University of Georgia.

According to Mobley there will be a panel discussion as well as practical exercises. Featured on the panel, along with the guest speakers, will be regional trainers.

"We will also have practical exercises in judging actual classes," said Mobley.

"Critiques will be given by the guest speakers," he added.

Included in the seminar will be, western and gaited halter classes, western performance classes, hunt seat English, pleasure classes, gaited pleasure classes (saddle horses) and racking classes. The western performance classes will be divided as follows: pleasure, western riding, western horsemanship, western reining and trail riding.

"This is a wonderful opportunity for judges and exhibitors as well to broaden their knowledge of various styles of equine exhibition. We are fortunate to be able to host such an event for our Mississippi horse industry," said Jim Buck Ross, Commissioner of Agriculture.

Registration will be at 8 a.m. in the Multi Purpose Building of the Mississippi State Fairgrounds in Jackson. For information contact Helen Mobley at 601/961-4066.

Horse Council elects officers

Jim Young of Aberdeen has been elected president of the Mississippi Horse Council (MHC), according to Helen Mobley, executive secretary MHC.

Other new elected officers for 1983-84 are as follows: F. Julian Carroll III of Jackson, first vice president; A.E. (Gene) Allen of Gulfport, second vice president; and Johnny Mac Sanders of Carthage, third vice president.

"The primary purpose of the MHC is to promote the horse industry in Mississippi," said Mobley. Two up coming projects are the Dixie National Wagon Train and the Open Show Judges; Seminar in March. Other MHC activities include providing information for people traveling through Mississippi with horses and encouraging legislation to protect the horse owner.

Former Picayune coach publishes basketball article

"Press Your Way to Victory," an article by J. Larry Ladner, was recently published in The Basketball Clinic, a publication for athletic coaches and teachers.

Ladner is a basketball specialist and assistant professor in the department of athletic administration and coaching at the University of Southern Mississippi. He is one of the most successful basketball coaches in the state, promoting basketball throughout Mississippi, as well as in other parts of the country.

Before coming to USM in 1971, Ladner was the head basketball coach and an instructor at Picayune Memorial High School for 11 years. He has received numerous sports awards and has had speaking engagements at over 231 banquets, professional organizations, seminars, camps, civic clubs and religious organizations.

The article, which was published in the November, issue of the publication, deals with the zone press defense. Ladner writes that during the past 20 years zone presses "have been very instrumental in revolutionizing basketball," and later on opines that "those who disbelieve (in the zone presses) are in a minority."

He writes that the advantages of the zone presses "are numerous" and describes some of the advantages in detail. He also discusses what he calls "the three major 'don'ts' of a zone press."

Wildcat cagers are 5-6

Pearl River College's Wildcats closed out the pre-Christmas season in Poplarville Monday night by losing to the Jones Bobcats 80-68.

Pearl River, who knocked off once-beaten Hinds last Thursday, could not get things rolling at all in the second half against Jones. The Wildcats were up 31-30 at intermission but by midway of the last stanza the Bobcats enjoyed a 57-46 advantage.

With 8:22 to go the Wildcats closed the gap to six, 59-53, but that's as close as PRC could get. During the late stages Jones took advantage of one and one situations to tie the contest.

Glen Boyd's 14 points and McDouglas Gabriel's 10 were the only Wildcats in double figures. The loss put the Wildcats' overall record at 5-6 and their division mark stands at 2-3.

Last Thursday, the Wildcats topped Hinds 72-61 on the road. The Eagles entered the contest with a sparkling 7-1 ledger with their only defeat coming in a double overtime decision to Utica.

The Wildcats placed five players in double figures. Boyd had 20 points, Randy Smith scored 13, Terry Peabody added 12 and Matthew Bacon and Rene Acker added 10 each.

The Wildcats' next game is Jan. 3 against the University of Quebec in the Kelly Wise Memorial Gym in Picayune. The Wildcats division second half of the season begins against Utica Jan. 11.

The Pearl River Junior College basketball Wildcats dropped a recent contest against Gulf Coast, 63-47, and then turned around the following night to defeat the Eagles of Meridian, 90-59.

This past week, the Wildcats battled nip and tuck with East Central until East Central

Lady Wildcats break for Christmas

Pearl River College's Lady Wildcats cruised to a 71-42 win over rival Jones in Poplarville Monday night to close out their pre-Christmas schedule with a 8-3 ledger.

The Lady Cats jumped to a 5-0 advantage before Jones came back with three quick baskets to take the lead 6-5. Seconds later, Sharon Williams hit a jumper to put PRC in front to stay.

At halftime the Lady Wildcats led 37-30 and they increased that advantage to 51-39 midway through the final stanza. Jones made a good comeback in the final minutes, closing the lead to 66-60 with 30 seconds left.

Carmen Reed was the Lady Wildcats' leading scorer as she pumped in 24. Jackie Ridgway added 16, and Sharon Williams 11.

Last Thursday night at Hinds the Lady Eagles surprised the PRC girls with a 72-61 setback. Four Hinds players were in double figures as Reed netted 10, Ridgway 17, and Williams 12 for the PRC girls.

The Lady Wildcats will take off for the Christmas break with a 3-2 division mark. They will resume play Jan. 11 against Utica.

After cruising to a perfect 6-0 record the Pearl River Junior College girls dropped back to back decisions to Gulf Coast and Meridian before getting back on the winning track with a narrow 74-72 victory over East Central this past week.

In the Perk contest, the Lady Wildcats erased an 18 point deficit late in the second half and almost pulled the game out of the fire. The Lady Bulldogs finally eased by 74-71 behind the 28 point performance of Daisy Cashey.

PRC's Carmen Reed was the games leading scorer with 27 points. Christina Fairley was the only Lady Cat in double figures as she pumped in 17.

The very next night, Meridian got revenge for an earlier loss to PRC and won 80-77. This time it was Michelle Davis scoring 25 for the winners and Sharon Williams getting 15 for PRC. Fairley got 13.

Christmas Seals Help Little Lungs

More than 32,000 children under five die each year of respiratory diseases. More than 15,000 die in the first year of life and many of the causes are due to respiratory distress syndrome and sudden infant death syndrome. Your contribution to Christmas Seals helps the American Lung Association to help little lungs.

Lung Disease Costs $48 Billion

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) — Also Aries Ascendant) — Rise above pettiness and gossip at work. Demonstrate self confidence and move toward your goals. Now is the time to launch a major project of significance. Financial support is available if you but ask! You exude sex appeal now.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) — Also Taurus Ascendant) — You may feel restless and want to be on the move. Journeys are possible, perhaps a vacation trip to distant shores. Writing, publishing and all communications are favored. You could gain recognition for your past work efforts.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) — Also Gemini Ascendant) — Real estate matters are accentuated and a move is possible. Beautifying your home is favored now and you can buy some lovely items that add to the decor. Entertain at home, go to parties and special events with family and close friends.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Also Libra Ascendant) — Work pressures may be heavy with extra duties and responsibilities. A good friend, perhaps older than you, could give you some very helpful tips about investments or real estate opportunities. Single Librans may begin an exciting romance.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) — Also Cancer Ascendant) — You are especially sensitive now and can absorb the moods of others. Good time to get away for a quiet retreat "away from the r-d-ding crowd." You can gain important insights into yourself, your philosophies and love relationships.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) — Also Leo Ascendant) — Listen to mate or partner and a financial problem can be solved. Any commitments you make regarding romance or marriage are important and lasting. Good time to sign contracts, especially of a financial or real estate nature.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) — Also Virgo Ascendant) — Many things in your life are coming to completion. Past efforts in career pay off handsomely now. A relationship may culminate in marriage, or a new serious romance could bloom. A good friend may have solid investment advice.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Also Scorpio Ascendant) — Pressures ease and you can "take a breather" now. Use this time to formulate plans for future actions. Other people are willing to help you make the right contacts. Some may get a raise in pay as a result of creative performance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Also Sagittarius Ascendant) — Guard against spreading yourself too thin now. Both career and domestic life could require attention and you feel pressured. Try not to worry and ask the help of mate or partner. Unexpected assistance from others saves the day.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) — Also Capricorn Ascendant) — Good news from a distance that you've waited a long time to hear could arrive now. Use a practical and direct approach in solving problems at work — success and a promotion could crown your efforts. Be concentrative.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) — Also Aquarius Ascendant) — Social life improves and you feel like getting out with people more. Finances are accentuated and you could have an unexpected expense come up now. Income improves, though, so there should be no problem. Enjoy relatives and friends.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20) — Also Pisces Ascendant) — An emotionally fulfilling time when relationships are highlighted. Enjoy family get-togethers and involve yourself in community activities. Career opportunities involving music, art or photography are especially accentuated now.

DON'T DRIVE DRUNK—DON'T LET A DRUNK DRIVE

Drunk driving in the U.S. has been called an epidemic out of control, a national outrage and our country's only socially acceptable violent crime.

Yet, unless our lives are touched directly by the tragedy of drunk driving, we tend not to get involved in the issue. We leave the search for solutions to others...to our legislators, police and victims.

But indirectly, everyone is affected. Drunk driving strains valuable law enforcement resources that could be used to help control other violent crime. And it costs Americans nearly $25 billion each year.

The chances of being in a drunk driving accident are greater than most people realize. Studies have shown that one out of every two people in the U.S. will be involved in an alcohol-related auto crash sometime in his or her lifetime.

Other statistics associated with drinking and driving are equally alarming: In the past decade, four times as many Americans died in drunk driving crashes as were killed in Vietnam. Seventy are killed every day. And nearly a million more are maimed or seriously injured each year.

One out of every 100 babies born today will die in a crash with a drunk driver.

Drunk driving is the leading cause of death for teenagers.

For young people, drinking and driving is an even deadlier mix. Most teenagers between the ages of 16 and 18 have yet to develop defensive driving skills and cannot effectively anticipate dangerous driving situations. At the same time, their bodies have yet to develop a tolerance for alcohol.

This combination is claiming more than 8,000 teenagers annually. Yet kids continue to drink, drive and buy alcohol even when they are under the legal drinking age.

Police estimate that as many as one in ten drivers on the road each weekend is legally intoxicated.

While some states are passing tougher laws, and police are enforcing present laws more vigorously, much more needs to be done to curtail drunk driving.

The problem drinker must be removed permanently from our highways. And social drinkers—many of whom likely include members of our own family—friends and co-workers must be convinced that driving under the influence is not only socially unacceptable, but dangerous. They must learn that if they drive drunk, they will get caught and be punished.

Help regain sober control of our highways:

• Know your drinking limits.

• Discourage friends from taking the wheel when they've had "one too many."

• Support strong legislation.

For more information on deterring drinking and driving, write to the National Association of Professional Insurance Agents, 400 N. Washington St., Alexandria, Va., 22314.

Money Talk

By Norine Barnes

If you're trying to balance the family budget, take a look at reducing some of your fixed expenses. These reductions can have the greatest impact on your spending, even though they may take some time to put into effect.

Take your mortgage payments or rent, for example. Do you have more house or apartment than you can actually afford? Moving to less costly quarters will free a considerable amount of money once moving costs have been absorbed.

Carefully examine your insurance requirements. It's possible that you are overinsured. Of course you want to adequately protect your family, but less costly term insurance might meet your needs as well as the more expensive whole life insurance does. Perhaps you could even get additional coverage through your place of employment and drop or lower individual insurance coverage.

While your present installment payments are indeed fixed, avoid taking on more debt. Postpone large purchases until your financial plan is in good working order, and stop using any kind of credit. If necessary, put your credit cards in an inaccessible place, like a safe deposit box, for the time being.

Are you paying for a second automobile that you don't absolutely need? If you could join a carpool or take public transportation, and thus temporarily give up your car, this would not only save you the payments, but operating, taxes, and insurance costs as well.

Reducing fixed expenses involves changes in lifestyle and these are often hard to make. If you can lower them, you will have more money to manage.

For more information on how to reduce your expenses, call your County Extension office and ask for Pub. 1333, "Don't Waste Dollars: 100 Plus Ways to Save Money."

CANCER Answerline

American Cancer Society

A regular feature prepared by the American Cancer Society, to help save your life from cancer.

Question: Are there different types of skin cancer?

ANSWERline: There are three main types of skin cancer, classified according to the cells involved. These are basal cell, squamous cell, and melanoma. More than 90 percent of all skin cancers fall into the first two classifications. Basal cell cancer occurs more frequently, but grows more slowly. It rarely spreads, but if left untreated can extend to underlying bone. Squamous cell cancer occurs less often, but is a greater danger because of rapid spread. These two types of cancer can appear on almost any area of the skin, but most commonly they develop on exposed parts of the body—face, neck, forearms, and the back of the hands. Squamous cell cancer and melanoma skin cancer appear very much alike, showing up either as a pale, waxlike pearly nodule that may eventually ulcerate and crust or as a scaly, red, sharply outlined patch. Malignant melanoma is a virulent form of skin cancer, which spreads rapidly. Melanomas are usually dark brown or black in pigmentation. They begin as mole-like growths that increase in size, change color, become ulcerated and bleed easily from a slight injury.

Question: Is chemotherapy replacing surgery and radiation in the treatment of cancer?

ANSWERline: At present surgery and radiation are the methods most often used in treating cancer. Chemotherapy ranks third. In some cancers all three of these are used. A fourth method under intense investigation is immunotherapy. In this method, attempts are being made to stimulate the body's complex self-defense system, so that it will recognize and reject a foreign substance, such as cancer. Immunotherapy is producing good results in some cases of melanoma, and is being tested on a variety of other cancers including leukemia and breast cancer. Much more work is needed for immunotherapy to become a major cancer treatment.

Hancock Insurance Agency

Being burglarized shocks and upsets any home. Yet in the minute it takes to read this article, six homes will be broken into. Yours could be next. Insurance reimburses losses, but the anger, shock, and confusion you feel when this happens is a very unhappy experience. A few simple precautions can help avoid this:

- ... Dead Bolt locks are best on outside doors
- ... Lock up when away from home including outside doors and accessible windows
- ... Secure patio doors - A wood pole in door track prevents door from opening
- ... Make an inventory of your possessions
- ... Be alert to strangers frequenting your area, check with neighbors and police

Growing Child

DANGER: CHILD PLAYING!
No, this isn't a street sign. It's a reminder that some toys can be dangerous to children. Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter, reminds parents that children are imitators and experimenters. Not only do they imitate their parents, they are continually experimenting with their toys—poking, pulling, prying, pinching. Some stuffed animals, for instance, have cute button eyes that pull off easily, exposing sharp points which fasten them on. These points sometimes do not lock like staples, but are just pushed in like a double-point thumb tack. This type of stuffed animal is apt to be found in souvenir shops or sold at carnivals. They are attractive to children, and are frequently a casual or spur-of-the-moment gift. Avoid them—or inspect them carefully. Children are rough on toys. They experiment by dragging them, banging them, and sitting on them. Avoid anything with sharp or rough edges that will cut or scratch.

Also avoid toys or objects with small removable parts that can be swallowed or pushed into an ear or nose. No one knows why a child will push a small object up his nose—perhaps just because it's there, the object is handy, and it happens to fit. If a toy is painted or just painted decorations, be sure that the paint is non-toxic. Imported toys, especially those from Mexico, may use lead-based paints, and eating paint chips has resulted in lead poisoning. Decorative beads, beans, or seeds may also be poisonous. Some plastic toys may be flammable if exposed to heat.

So what are desirable toys? For infants: Bright, colorful toys in many shapes, sizes, textures, and weights. Noisy rattles to shake; unbreakable mirrors to look into; soft balls, blocks, and puppets to hold; hard rubber or unbreakable plastic objects to teethe on. For preschoolers: Books! A sandbox with bucket, shovel, and spoon. (For indoors, a "rice box" using whole grain unprocessed rice is easier to clear up!) Large pegboard and pegs and puzzles for coordination skills. Wooden animals, cars, and vehicles. A sturdy wagon. A "walk-around" kiddie car. Large crayons, paint, lots of paper. A rocking horse.

For school age children: Books, books, books! Hardwood blocks, a small chair and table. Board games. Musical instruments, microscopes, kaledoscopes, telescopes! Arts and crafts supplies. Growing Child has a catalog of over 600 educational toys, books and records for children from infants to six-year-olds, with a few items for older children up to 12-years-old. To obtain a copy, send $1 to Catalog, P.O. box 620N, Lafayette, Indiana 47902.

DRUG QUIZ

by Curt Scarborough, Ph.D.
Used by permission; all rights reserved by DATE, St. Louis, Mo.

QUESTION—Which group of people has been most successful at quitting smoking?

- a) Athletes
- b) Doctors
- c) School Teachers
- d) Truckers

ANSWER—According to Dr. William Pollin, Director of the National Institute on Drug Abuse, doctors and others in health care, with surgeons and pathologists leading the way, have been the group most successful at quitting smoking. These are the ones, he pointed out, who on a day-to-day basis see the physiological effects of smoking. Smoking among physicians dramatically dropped from 65% in 1950 to 21% in 1975.
Correct answer - b.

QUESTION—Which one of these slang terms does not refer to the hallucinogenic drug PCP?

- a) Brain Eraser
- b) Dolly
- c) Heroin of the Suburbs
- d) Angel Dust

ANSWER—Dummy Dust and Brain Eraser are common nicknames for PCP because it tends to space persons out for days, weeks, or even months. The drug usually distorts the sensory perceptions of its users, creating an inability to feel pain, heat or cold. Other street names include Angel Dust, Hog, Peace Pill, and Heroin of the Suburbs. Dolly is one of the terms for Methadone, a synthetic narcotic.
Correct answer - b.

For further information about alcohol and drug abuse, write: Dr. Paul G. Jones, II, Executive Director, Christian Action Commission, P.O. Box 530, Jackson, MS 39205.

QUESTION—At what age do the highest percentage of youngsters take their first drink of alcohol?

- a) 10
- b) 12
- c) 14
- d) 16

ANSWER—The pattern as seen from a measure of age is that youngsters are taking a taste of alcohol earlier in life than ever before in our nation. The first-drink time—as an average—is now seen to be in the twelfth year.
Correct answer - b.

QUESTION—Which of these is the number one killer of young people?

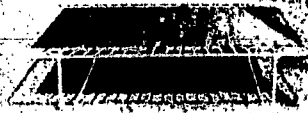

- a) Suicide connected to drug abuse
- b) Drug overdose
- c) Drunk driving
- d) None of the above

ANSWER—Half of American high school students drink regularly and many of them get drunk and drive when drunk. Tragically, drunk driving is the number one killer of young people.
Correct answer - c.

Some say that looking at sapiens strengthens the eyes.

Montgomery listed in Who's Who

Sharon Lynn Montgomery of Diamondhead is among 41 students who have been selected for listing in the 1983 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Recommended by a committee of the University's faculty and professional staff members, the students were considered on the basis of academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential. Final selection of those considered among the nation's outstanding leaders from more than 1,300 institutions was made by the Who's Who national office. TCU students chosen for the national listing were honored Nov. 30 at a dinner hosted by the University's chancellor, Dr. William E. Tucker.

Montgomery is the daughter of Norman and Anita Montgomery of 6614 All Place in Diamondhead.

She is a member of the TCU dance ensemble, and Alpha Theta and Chi Tau Eta honor societies. Montgomery has been named to the Dean's List every semester and is recognized as a TCU scholar. She will graduate in December with a bachelor of fine arts degree in ballet.

OLG-CYO activities include live nativity scene Saturday

The Our Lady of the Gulf CYO visited the Hotel Reed Nursing home, bringing treats to the elderly in residence.

The group also participated in recent fund-raising for UNICEF around the area.

For Thanksgiving, OLG-CYO brought prepared dinners to indigent area residents living alone.

During December, the CYO is helping the fire department gather toys for Christmas. Plans have been made to go caroling on Wednesday, Dec. 22, collecting for St. Jude's Hospital.

Also, OLG-CYO will host its annual Live Nativity Scene in front of the OLG Church Saturday at 6:15 p.m. Donations will be accepted for the St. Jude Hospital.

Is Your Job Making You Sick?

Occupational lung diseases affect people in many walks of life. Such conditions can be reduced, eliminated, or avoided. Contributions to the Christmas Seal campaign of the American Lung Association will help teach employers and employees about lung hazards in the workplace.

Fight For Clean Air

Certain persons are at high risk to the adverse effects of air pollution. Answer your Christmas Seal appeal letter today and join the American Lung Association in the fight for clean air and healthy lungs.

There is a certain 'little shrimp' that lives in the mud of desert waterholes. When the mud dries up, the shrimp shuts down almost completely until rain comes along and brings it back to life.

Good Vibrations

Musical Fun For Girls And Boys

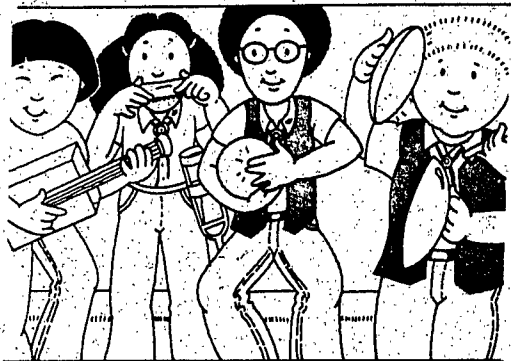

Making music is fun, and it's something that can bring a feeling of togetherness to a group or a family. The best part is girls and boys can make musical instruments from everyday things they'll find around the house.

The instructions for a "kitchen symphony" are from the kitchen, table, put your ear on the table and listen to how the sound travels through it. Sound can travel through solid substances even better than through the air.

Make a coffee can drum. Stretch a balloon tight over the open end of a coffee

Making the Most of the Activity
Have members feel their own throats or someone else's as they talk. Ask if they can feel the vocal cords vibrating as the sounds come through.

Form a marching band with the portable non-breakable instruments you have created. Practice playing and marching, perhaps accompanied by a record.

Camp Fire, the national youth agency which serves girls and boys from first grade through high school.

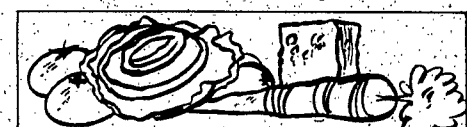

Materials: Knife, fork, spoon, string, watch or clock, coffee can, pot lids, 8 glasses with varying amounts of water, square cake pan, rubber bands of same length but different thicknesses, balloon.

Steps: Tie a knife, a fork and a spoon together in the center of a 3' string to make silverware chimes. Hold the ends of the string in your ears and listen to the chimes. Sound travels through string because of vibrations.

can. Hold it on with a rubber band.

Make an 8-note xylophone by filling 8 glasses with varying amounts of water. Tap gently with a spoon. Which makes the highest tone? The emptiest glass or the fullest glass? The glass vibrates, though you can't see it. That's why you can hear the sound.

Make a cake pan guitar. From a square cake pan wrapped with rubber bands of the same length but different thicknesses. When you pluck the rubber bands, you can hear the sounds and see the strings move. They are vibrating.

A layer of paper towel in the vegetable compartment of your refrigerator will absorb excess moisture.

LOST PET—A female Norwegian Elkhound named Promises, the beloved pet of a seven-year-old girl, was discovered missing Sunday morning from her fenced yard on South Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis near Ramoneda Street and Bay Oaks Drive. A reward is offered for the two-year-old pet which is wearing a light brown flea collar by telephoning 467-3849.

Book Review

NATURE'S SURPRISES AND COUNTRYSIDE MEMORIES COLLECTED IN

WILDLIFE BOOK

Puffins, nesting along Maine's rocky coast, cougars prowling the Western mountains, horned lark chicks squawking in their Midwestern prairie nest, and caribou reigning over the Alaskan tundra — this is a sampling of America's wildlife.

From the rare bird called the Everglades kite, to the Southwest's roadrunner and Hawaii's unique nene goose, the nation's wildlife is featured in America's Wildlife Sampler, published by the National Wildlife Federation.

In 208 full-color pages, the Sampler is both a delightful album of memories of America's countryside and a pleasant sampling of nature's surprises. Travel to the favorite spots of superb writers, and professional nature photographers while on a personal tour of the land we all call home — through miles of wilderness, mountains, farmland, prairies and coasts of our 50 states.

For those who value wildlife and the out-of-doors, there will be special moments of appreciation for this country's natural resources and exciting moments of exploration and discovery.

Encounter, for example, the oasis of Mono Lake, east of Yosemite, where over 100 species of birds have been noted — where, during spring and fall migrations, over 800,000 birds may gather in a single day. Learn about the wildlife refuges and sanctuaries of Hawaii that protect native monk seals and millions of seabirds, including Laysan albatrosses returning from the sea to breed. View a mourning dove nesting in cholla cactus, a herd of bison grazing on plains of golden wildflowers, and a great horned owl awaiting the evening hunt in a willow thicket.

Travel through the Northeast with Reeve Brown, who writes of the cold winters, farmers, fishermen, birds and other wildlife that have become part of this region's "enduring image." Thomas Allen takes us through the South, from the Chesapeake Bay and the Potomac River to the Great Smoky Mountains, the Outer Banks and the Everglades. Come upon raccoons, black bears, wild turkeys and alligators — all inhabitants of an area that the author calls one of "luxuriance and rich variety."

Move on through the Midwest with writer Robert Carr to a snowy Michigan farmyard, a hot Kansas wheatfield and a shimmering cattail marsh — through "this vast expanse of forest and prairie" that feeds a nation, houses great cities and still has room for wildlife. Author David Robinson takes us to the Grand Tetons, Bryce Canyon and elsewhere in the Mountain States, home of grazing elk and floating swans, stealthy bobcats and wary partridges, mountain wildflowers and strutting sagebrushes that make this region "a feast for nature lovers."

From the wind-swept plains of Oklahoma and Texas, to the deserts of Arizona and New Mexico, discover the animals and plants of the Southwest as Wayne Barrett shares his encounters with the area's Gila Monsters, bighorn sheep and snowy egrets. David Sumner travels through the Pacific States to see their whales, wild horses, and tule elk — wildlife residents of "rich forests and great valley, high peaks, and bright deserts."

Lush, tropical Hawaii is called "paradise" by Reeve Brown, who describes the spectacular plant life and unique birds of the islands. And Boyd Norton writes of Alaska, "the quintessence of wilderness, wildlife and scenery in America," and home of the brown bear, the walrus and the Dall sheep.

Concluding each regional chapter in America's Wildlife Sampler is an "Almanac," providing a homespun collection of wildlife lore, recipes, weather wisdom, and American humor native to the area.

Need a recipe for pumpkin scones? Wonder why the best time to see some wildlife is during the dark of the moon? Ever heard of the mystical walls from Santa Barbara Island that once terrorized crewmen heading through those coastal waters? The Sampler — its rich text, its "Almanacs" and its spectacular photographs — America's Wildlife Sampler answers those questions and more. This book is a chance to discover the distinctive wildlife and landscapes of every region of the country — a chance to celebrate America.

is available for $14.95, plus $1.55 per order for handling, before January 1 (16.95 thereafter) from the National Wildlife Federation, 19867 NG, 1412 16th St., NW, Washington, D.C. 20036.

REAL VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

By Dr. Dennis Tosh

Dr. Dennis Tosh is holder of the J. Ed Turner Chair of Real Estate at The University of Mississippi

REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT TRUST

Question: A stockbroker sent me a brochure advertising shares for sale in a real estate investment trust. It sounds like a mutual fund. What can you tell me about it? S.L. Pearl

Answer: Dear S.L.:

The real estate investment trust, or REIT, is a creature of both state and federal tax law. A REIT is created in the form of a business trust. If the tax requirements are met, it provides for a pass through of income without double taxation.

Further, it has the added advantage of limited liability to the investor and ease in the transfer of shares.

However, the value of an REIT share is based on the capability of the management and the quality of the investments. Many people suffered significant financial losses during the 1973-75 recession because of incompetent management, poor investments and a bad real estate climate. Some REITs fared well and were able to weather the economic downturn.

A major advantage of a REIT is that no federal income tax need be paid by the trust, if certain qualifications are met.

A REIT does for real estate what a mutual fund does for securities. It provides the small investor with a means of combining funds with those of others while offering the protection from double taxation that would be levied against an ordinary corporation or trust.

Remember, though, that all that glitters is not gold — look before you leap.

For answers to your questions, write Dr. Dennis Tosh, P.O. Box 235, University, Ms 38677.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1982-1D

This page sponsored as a public service by:

Introduction

The 1982 Program of Work of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce was a comprehensive statement of goals and objectives of the organization and of the direction in which we moved, not only in 1982, but in which we will move in the future. It covered a broad range of topics, subjects and events of vital concern to all the citizens of our area.

The 1982 Program of Work was a living, flexible document, the details of which were subject to change as developments occurred and actions were taken. While we refer to it as our 1982 Program of Work, it is also viewed as a long-range work program to be updated annually.

Some of our objectives were undertaken by volunteer task forces and committees; others were solely staff functions. Some programs were started in 1982; some will continue into 1983. Some programs required immediate action; some long-range action. Some objectives were accomplished solely by the Chamber; others were in conjunction with other organizations and agencies.

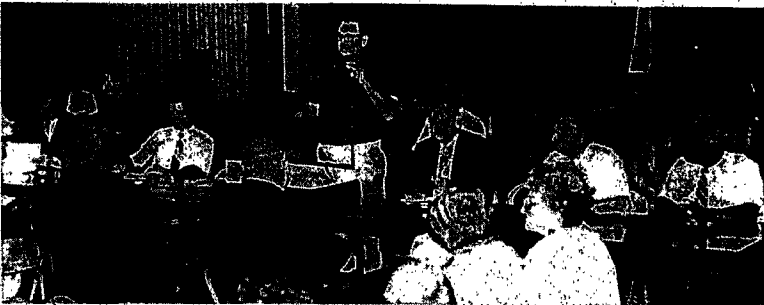

To summarize, the Chamber priorities will lead us to a higher level of economic growth, which, in turn, will lead us to a higher quality of life and standard of living for our people.

You, as community members, have major responsibilities and opportunities to move our county forward...to make a difference where it counts. Your participation in the Chamber of Commerce is necessary. If you are interested in becoming involved in the work of the chamber, let us hear from you, and soon.

Clarice L. Gustin
Executive Director

PARTICIPATING IN NEW BUSINESS DEVELOPMENTS—Dignitaries, businessmen and developers met in May of 1982 for the groundbreaking of Marketown Shopping Center, Bay St. Louis. Participating in the ceremonies are, from left, Bay St. Louis City Clerk Eddie Favre, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Clarice Gustin, Ken Delenger of Coast Materials, Bay St. Louis Councilman Sheldon Seuzeneau, Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett, mall owner Wayne F. Wandell, financial assistant George Glidewell, Bay St. Louis Councilman Wilmer Seymour, Developer Gary Gilmore, and Bay St. Louis Utility Department Superintendent Bill Johnston. Breaux, standing, introduces candidates at a chamber-sponsored political forum prior to a September special election for the office of Hancock County Superintendent of Education. (Sea Coast Echo staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Small Business Administration Resource Center

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce was designated a Small Business Administration Resource Center on June 30, 1982.

As a Resource Center the chamber will provide complete SBA management assistance, information services and publications, SCORE and ACE counseling services, general information on SBA loan programs, seminars and a complete SBA library.

These services are available to all small businesses at no charge. The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is one of several chambers throughout Mississippi who have agreed to serve as SBA Resource Centers.

A workshop on "How to Market to the Government" was co-sponsored by the chamber and the Small Business Development Center on October 27, 1982, at the National Space Technology Laboratories.

The chamber and the Small Business Development Center co-sponsored a workshop in November on "How to Prevent Business Losses Due to Shoplifting, Bad Checks and Employee Theft."

Forty chamber members attended this workshop. Workshop participants were Ronnie Peterson, Hancock County Sheriff; Dick Kosbab, Hancock Insurance Agency; James Ginn, vice-president, Hancock Bank; and John Scaife, Farve, Genin and Scaife.

From the President

Breaux inventories year in office

Always at this time of year I take inventory - not of merchandise on dusty shelves or in gloomy store rooms, but of friends and fellow workers.

I seat them before me in a comfortable group and I look them over carefully and ask myself, "What have I done to make their lives happier or their work easier, and what have they done for me?" For friendship is a two-way road. And I see that I have received much and given but little.

Wonderful people, these, for their hearts are molded to the proposition that it is better to give than to receive.

Are some outstanding? Yes! For some people hand out priceless gifts like encouragement and inspiration, they stimulate the mind. They help tremendously in smoothing over the rough spots, with no thought of reward.

It's hard for a country boy like me to find words to express myself properly, but I must say how much I appreciate the dedication, hard work and the countless hours that were given by the board of directors and staff this past year.

Do you know the chamber as 20 board members.

Do you know that there are 12 standing committees.

Do you know these 12 chairpersons involved a little less than 100 members of the Chamber of Commerce this year. That's about a fourth of the membership and that is not counting the members who worked that were not named on any committee.

Do you know there were 3,515 walkins through our office this year.

Do you know there were 10,244 written inquiries and mailouts.

Do you know there were 4,477 telephone calls.

Do you know there were 75 new members that joined the chamber in 1982, our best year ever.

Do you know we have a staff that is second to none, they are unbelievable. Together we have reached all our goals, plus some.

I don't know when I have worked with a group as "ready, willing and able" as these fine people.

As Christians know, wanting to go to heaven is not enough, you've got to work for it.

As chamber members know, wanting to get involved in the chamber is not enough. You've got to call the staff or any board member and let them know you want to participate.

There is a big difference between being involved and participating. You can get deeply involved in a ballgame while in the stands, but you've got to be on the court and participate before you can have an effect on the final score.

I've always worked and prayed for a rich, full life. Working with these special people (the board, members and staff) this year has made my life a little fuller and a lot richer. For this privilege, I will forever be grateful. Thank you all.

Louis J. Breaux
